Honourable Chairperson, respected judges, and everyone present,

The opposition says that examinations are the ONLY WAY to judge students. But we say that examinations may be one way, but they are NOT THE ONLY WAY.

If the opposition says that examinations can assess a student's knowledge, we say, yes, of course they can. But the question is: IS KNOWLEDGE THE ONLY QUALITY A STUDENT POSSESSES? Can a student's CREATIVITY, LEADERSHIP, COMMUNICATION SKILLS, TEAMWORK, PROBLEM SOLVING ABILITY, AND HUMAN QUALITIES be fully judged through a written examination? If not, then HOW CAN EXAMINATIONS BE THE ONLY WAY? The opposition may say that everyone gets the same questions in an examination, so it is the fairest method. Our question is: DOES GETTING THE SAME QUESTIONS GUARANTEE THAT ALL OF A STUDENT'S ABILITIES CAN BE MEASURED?

A student may perform well in an examination but be weak in practical work. On the other hand, another student may achieve an average result in an examination but be excellent at SOLVING REAL LIFE PROBLEMS, LEADERSHIP, AND CREATIVITY.

Then, can we decide who is more capable by looking only at their MARKS?

If the opposition says that projects, practicals, viva examinations, or presentations can also be part of assessment, then we would say, THANK YOU! YOU HAVE ADMITTED THAT EXAMINATIONS ARE NOT THE ONLY WAY!

And if you say that examinations alone are enough, then our question is:

WHERE WILL YOU MEASURE LEADERSHIP?

WHERE WILL YOU MEASURE CREATIVITY?

WHERE WILL YOU MEASURE TEAMWORK?

WHERE WILL YOU MEASURE HUMANITY?

Therefore, our position is clear: examinations may be necessary, but they can NEVER BE THE ONLY JUDGE OF A STUDENT'S COMPLETE ABILITY.

Honourable Chairperson, a student is NOT JUST A MARK, NOT JUST A GPA, AND NOT EVEN A THREE HOUR EXAMINATION.

A student is the sum of their KNOWLEDGE, INTELLIGENCE, CREATIVITY, HUMANITY, AND POTENTIAL.

Therefore, we firmly say: EXAMINATIONS MAY JUDGE A STUDENT'S ACADEMIC PERFORMANCE, BUT THEY CAN NEVER JUDGE THE WHOLE STUDENT.

Thank you.
